

A Trusted Source So You Can Work From Home

Transitioning back into the workplace while managing your disability can be challenging. At NTI@Home, we provide the services to allow you to thrive during your transition.

Our program provides individuals with disabilities and family caregivers the opportunity to work -from-home for leading organizations and government agencies. For more than 25 years, NTI@Home has provided work -at-home jobs for individuals with disabilities as call center agents, customer service representatives, and IT help desk technicians.

NTI@Home has partnered with the Social Security Administration's Ticket to Work program to become one of the largest and trusted employment networks, while providing coaching, training, and job placement services.

Supporting Your Success

Once you register for the NTI@Home program, you will be invited to an Information Session.

If you continue with NTI@Home, we will help you identify your strengths and prepare you to be a successful work-at-home call center agent.

NTI@Home has been nationally recognized for serving individuals with disabilities and was officially inducted into the Susan M. Daniels Disability Mentoring Hall of Fame in Washington, DC.

"I've been blessed to have worked from home since 2004 with NTI@Home. Being in a wheelchair meant my job options were limited, but now I make an income. My family sees that a physical disability doesn't mean you have to let your mind go to waste. They're proud of me and I love that. Thank you, NTI!"

- Zeanne H., NTI Agent

Training Toward Transition

How do we help you prepare for your first day of work? NTI@Home has self-study and instructor-led courses to help you learn new technical and professional skills. Classes provide training on customer service, problem solving, and maintaining your home office through hands-on activities, presentations, and discussions. You will be taught the knowledge and skills needed to excel at your new position.

Registering For Your Future

Registration is free and only takes a few minutes to complete. Register today at:

<https://ndrn.NTIatHome.org>

